Municipal Nominations

Two Reforms and Thirteen Councillors in the Field—All Anxious to Get There.

Every Sort of Reform Promised
—A Higher Interest on All Unpaid Taxes Proposed.

Are We to Have a Grist Mill?
The Old and New System
Discussed.

Proposed Amendment to the Herd Law—The 14th Will Tell the Story.

Monday last being nomination
day, a number of all sorts of conveyances were to be observed coming into town from all directions,
and from the number of candidates nominated we are led to infer that at last the ratepayers of the municipality are awakening to a sense of duty. Nominations closed at 12 o'clock and a formidable list was presented. The following is a list of the would be municipal legislators:

Reeves—Messrs. W. Henley, W.

J. Vickers,
Councillors—Messrs. J. F. Cates,
James Smith, Wm. Stewart, Arthur
Webster, A. Raymond, Jas. Hicks,
Chas. Hill, John Edward Jenkinson,
Joseph Craig, Hugh Kidd, Maurice
J. Matthews, Wm. Chapman, Geo.
Scarf.

WHAT THEY HAD TO SAY.
Mr. J. Fraser (chairman) explained that as there was a long list to go through they could not expect much from him. He was not in the field, and would not be until he could make his own business pay. The number of aspirants for municipal honors indicated that there must be something in it. There never was a greater opportunity for a council than at the present time.

As we are entirely at the mercy of the C. P. R., we must try and get a living rate from that corporation.
Mr. Fraser also advocated the highest possible interest on all unpaid taxes; also, the advertising in a proper manner of the opening in this place for a grist mill. He then called on one of the retiring councillors, namely, Mr. Caldwell, who said that he would have to be excused from addressing them on any very particular matter. He congratulated the municipality on the favorable state of the finances. One question in particular he wished to impress upon them, is the fact that charity will have a great claim on the municipality, as there are some parties who are in abject need.
Mr. Caldwell then explained his action in reference to the funds
placed in his hands for expenditure;
referring to the school tax said, as it is at present, the time for paying cannot be extended beyond the 1st of March.

Another matter—seed grain—
which is absolutely required. Although leaving the council he was not dropping from the scene in toto,
as he intended to be around to see that the council did their work properly.

Mr. J. Bunn had not a great lot to say; he had given an account of his stewardship to those who had elected him; he took exception to the manner in which hay permits were given; outlined a scheme to the council for the protection of growing hay. With reference to the convention held at Indian Head,

he was the instigator of that meeting, which was held for the purpose of proposing amendments to the Municipal Act. Mr. Bunn read the proposed amendments and commented thereupon, holding that they were for the benefit of the municipality. He expressed himself opposed to the new system.

Mr. Vickers said: No doubt he should have a certain amount of bashfulness in appearing before the meeting, as he had heard a great deal lately about his youthfulness.
He was instrumental in bringing about the new system of road work.
Before, we never had anything to show; now we have. He claimed that this was an act of economy.
He was in favor of further amending this road system, by dividing it into a greater number of divisions.
With reference to the municipal convention, it was called by the late council for the purpose of arriving at some plan to reduce the machinery. One of the proposals was to have an assessment every three years, with the option of returning to the old system. Some persons think that personal property
fluctuates in a number of years.
There is an exemption to the amount of $300; this is a matter
in which there could be no difficulty in meeting. The ordinance does not give us the power to make the treasurer collector, but this is a matter that is not insurmountable.
With reference to the abolishing of the ward system, the council was advised to it, and he personally was in favor of the ward system. As to the herd law, he was in favor of having the grain protected and that cattle should have free access to all wild grasses, considered the protection of hay was a matter that affected our cattle and dairy interests. A vote of the municipality should be had before any steps were taken in the matter. A great deal had been said about the tax sale, whether he had a great deal to do with the matter. Perhaps he had and perhaps he hadn't; this much he would say, that the law provided for it,
and by the tax sale we received money that we would not otherwise have had, and are thereby able to refund the general tax for the past year. With reference to the public hall and the revenue to be derived,
for charity, a sum sufficient to clear expenses; local affairs, a little more,
and for outside affairs, a higher sum should be charged. Mr. Henley and himself were both aspirants for the office of reeve. His platform and mine are identical, with a very few exceptions. As to the matter of his qualification, he maintained
that his having been in the council for a number of years certainly gave him the advantage in that respect.

Mr. Henley said he was accused of having a ticket, which he denied.
When asked at McLean whether or not he was in favor of bonusing a cremery, he said no; but what he thought was, that if the council had $1,500 laying idle and drawing no interest it could be used to advantage in this enterprise. Mr. Vickers' ideas and his with reference to the road work were identical; on the question of assessment he differed with Mr. Vickers; the assessment at present is not perfect; he thought the ward system good, but as the present system is untried we could not condemn it; if it was found that it was more expensive he would be inclined to revert to the old system; he had had no exception to take to the herd law, with the exception of the town. His motto is "strict economy," and will endeavor to serve you faithfully
and honestly.

Mr. Cates said his remarks would be few and short. He came before them as an old councillor seeking re-election at the request of a great number of his friends and fellowratepayers. We will all agree that economy is necessary. He was not prepared to say that the late
council were deserving of censure;
in fact, he considered that for the two years past we have had as good a council as possible; with regard to the assessment he explained his views on the matter. The noxious weed was a question that, without doubt, is here to stay, and he would advocate the joint action of the neighboring municipalities; thinks the statute labor, as at present, is a great improvement on the old system, but is adverse to all the statute

labor being expended on the roads;
would advocate fire breaks being made round the municipality and on both sides of the C.P.R.; with reference to the herd law, he was in the council at the time the herd law was passed and threshed it out clause by clause; several other councils have done the same since without improving it.

Mr. James Smith was very much pleased to see such a large meeting, which shows that there is quite an interest being taken in the matter.
They all knew him, and there being so many speakers to follow, he would not say much, but would claim the right to reply, as he thought it likely that there would be several statements made that would require reply; was not in favor of the proposed amendment to the statute labor. The herd law is a difficult matter in consequence of the diversity of interest, but in time will no doubt right itself. He was not in love with the position of councillor, but as he was asked by a large number of friends he consented, and if elected will do his best to represent the municipality
as a whole, as he had done in the past.

A. Webster—It appears proper for a person coming before you for your suffrages, to explain the platform on which he should work.
Had been a resident in the municipality for over ten years, and should know your wants. Could only say that he would work faithfully and honestly in your interests
if they should do him the honor to elect him. He had not very much to say in favor of the present ordinance; was in favor with doing away with the municipality altogether;
saw no reason why they could not do without it; if this was impracticable, was strongly in favor of returning to the old ward system,
principally on the score of economy;
by economy, he did not favor a peny wise and pound foolish policy,
but he favored cutting our coat according to our cloth. He was not quite in touch with some of the gentlemen who had already spoken
re herd law; sees no reason why we cannot protect growing hay without restricting the running of cattle; appraisers should be appointed who should surely be capable men; the duty of the poundkeeper is a matter that requires looking into; the matter of costs
and remuneration was a mute question.

Mr. Stewart had not much to say.
He had not been so long in the country as others. The question is low taxes or no taxes. No taxes would suit him best. All the road work he had done for ten years was not worth one cent to him; advocated path masters in every township who would then have an interest in the work, and not be drawn away five or six miles to work on a road in which they had no interest;
considered that the difference in value between manual labor and team work needs adjustment; objected to the spending of money by the different councillors.

A. Raymond claimed to be only a novice at the business, and did his best to satisfy all parts of the municipality, and if returned would still endeavor to do so.

Mr. Hicks appeared as a stranger to most of those present and the chosen candidate for the district of Davin; advocated fair play and equal rights to the whole municipality.

Mr. Hill was in favor of keeping down taxes; considered the herd
law, as at present, satisfactory;
assessments should be made yearly;
was in favor of returning to the old ward system; councillors should not handle public money.

Mr. Jenkinson had been brought out by a great number of people;
appearing on a public platform was

"But I go forever, and come again no more." Mr. Stevenson was only forty-four—perhaps he had scarcely attained to the plenitude of his powers; but he had done enough to secure for himself enduring fame among his countrymen of the highest intellect and genius. If his life was short it was happy, for he loved his fellow-man and the beautiful in nature.

We have been asked by several with reference to the coming municipal election, as to whether or not an elector can record his vote in more than one polling booth. On referring to the ordinance, we cannot find anything definite on the matter; it certainly says that an elector can only vote once for a mayor or reeve, and that is all it does say. Will the framers of the ordinance please explain?

Aluminium.

To the Editor of The Progress.
SIR.—I have taken the liberty to write the following notes on aluminium, as it may interest some of your readers.

Aluminium is a white metal like silver in appearance, very malleable, ductile, and highly sonorous, and can be beaten and rolled into thin sheets or drawn into fine wire. By cold hammering it becomes as hard as soft iron, but can be softened again by fusion. It is very light, being only two and a half times heavier than water, and is thus four times lighter than silver. It melts at a red heat, and is non-volatile at very high temperatures. It is a good conductor for heat and electricity.

Aluminium is manufactured by the electrolytic process. The largest factory in the world is at Neuhausen, Switzerland, which is capable of producing 100,000 tons per annum. The second largest factory is in the south of France, which uses water power from the Alps, with an annual output of 600. No aluminium is now manufactured in England.

The annual output of aluminium has increased from about 50 tons in 1890 to about 4,000 tons in 1894.

The price of the metal has diminished from $14.61 per lb. in 1886 to about 38 cents per lb. at the present time. As aluminium weighs (bulk per bulk) only one-third of the other metals now in use, this last price corresponds to 13 cents per lb. only when comparison is made with them.

Aluminium is very easily oxidized, and, therefore, as soon as it is exposed to the air, however highly polished it may be, it instantly becomes covered with a thin film of oxide of aluminium. This constitutes one of its best qualities, the thin film preventing the metal from becoming further oxidized, and thus keeping it from turning black, as with silver, copper and other similar metals. Aluminium can now be soldered by a process invented by M. Ludwig Ohlven.

HARTLEY GIBSON.

The Preacher and the Wag.

Mr. Rees, a well known street preacher, was accosted by a would-be wag the other day, and questioned as follows:

"Do you believe what the Bible says about the Prodigal Son and the fattened calf?"

"Certainly I do."

"Well, can you tell me whether the calf that was killed was a male or female calf?"

"Yes, it was a female calf."

"How do you know that?"

"Because," said Rees, looking the chap in the face, "I see the male is alive now."

THE SEARCH FOR CONTENT.

One day when the gods were engaged in chat, Like mortals conversing on this thing and that, The Thunderer observed, that to each he had sent, As a blessing to man, the fair goddess Content;

But so long she'd been absent, he feared she was lost; He therefore resolved to send Hermes, the fleet,

To search in what quarter the fugitive strayed, And fairly report the discovery he made.

The order was given, and quickly the god Adjusted his bow, and took up his rod; Outstripping the winds, he, quick as the night,

To the white cliffs of Britain directed his flight, As Britain, he knew, was of Europe the pride.

In quest of the goddess he first went to court, Supposing she'd chosen such a splendid resort;

But observing the throne was encircled with eunuchs, He wisely concluded she'd never been there.

To the minister next he directed his course, And found the state pilot with wrangling houses;

Tho' his face wore a smile and tho' placid his tone, Yet Content, he conceived, he had never yet seen.

He next took a trip to the Sons of Ambition, Who have and demand to promote opposition; But he knew from the marks of chagrin on each face

That Content with the faction was quite out of place. To the clergy his course he determined to steer,

In the hopes from the priesthood some tidings to hear; But Content was a stranger to all, they confessed,

Tho' each could describe her and wished her his guest. He next he went the next day at the dawn,

Whom next he had gazed him the mitre and lawn, For a month he was pleased with his splendour and condition,

And when he had seen his highest ambition, He heard him pray for a speedy translation.

Disappointed, from hence he sought Hermes' aid, And found him in a cavern a bearded crew;

The jolly laugh and hoarse voice were merry and loud, But George was repaid by a headache and sound;

They joked at their wit, and they laughed without mirth, And their harsh phrases ended the border's birth;

He therefore concluded, what oft has been true, That Content can't with Common and Bacchus reside.

He next found a party of gossiping dames, Who met to discuss a list of good names; From these he heard, but without interest drew,

That the loss of every Content never knew. He now had recourse to some fox-hunting squires,

Whose rudeness and health were desired to be in the land; But he found their business—that with made good.

He next he sought and found a crowd of wags, Who, though they were merry, had no sense in their heads;

But never did he find, though he was in view, The goddess Content, and so they did not pursue.

It fully convinced that Content was at home, At Oxford and Cambridge he found in each college

A good deal of sport and a deep fund of wit, Where he met Alma Mater with fondness and pride;

Fair chance to hear and to foster the wit, A professor he saw with his uncommonly good people;

Was solemnly taking the height of a step, And others were lining a mighty ball; He next he sought and found a crowd of wags,

Who, though they were merry, had no sense in their heads; But never did he find, though he was in view, The goddess Content, and so they did not pursue.

But from what I've observed I can plainly see, They cannot for many days longer agree,

For Content, last night, in a peasant's fit, With an ill-natured air gave me warning to quit;

And now I'm resolved, in the course of a week To take a French leave and new quarters to seek.

The dialogue ended, and Hermes, the god, Tied the wings to his shoes, and adjusted his rod;

Gave him to Content and the two honest people, Then sprang from the ground to the height of a stoep,

Joined the gods in a minute and made this report, At the first quarter session, when Jove was in court;

Jove heard the detail, and was sorry he sent On an errand so fruitless the goddess Content.

"So, Hermes," said he, "with a posse of gods, Go fetch her once more to these happy abodes;

Let Patience go with you, and leave her below, As the highest felicity mortals shall know.

Whose lives are a wonderful mixture of bliss Springing up from their passions, their fancies and wills.

Content seeks admission with labor in vain; Then let them have Patience and cease to complain."

Well pleased with their errand they cheerfully went, And brought back rejoicing the goddess Content;

But Patience they left, by the father assigned, To comfort, relieve, and encourage mankind;

And if they've a wish for Content, 'twill be given, When Patience has rendered them worthy of Heaven.

THE OLDEST COLONY.

Made a Mistake in Not Coming into Canadian Federation.

London, Dec. 28.—In a leader this morning, the Daily News says:

"Whatever the issue to the proceedings against the directors of the Commercial Bank of Newfoundland, the incident will hardly strengthen the public confidence, on which the poor remnant of Newfoundland's prosperity rests. The colony must now see cause to regret its shortsighted refusal to enter the Dominion. Had it joined the Canadian Confederation, it would have a better claim for support from its sister communities than it can now advance."

Master and Man.

If a gentleman breaks a horse's heart, he's only a "bowld rider," while a poor servant is a "careless blackguard" for only taking a sweat out of him. If a girl man drinks till he can't see a hole in a ladder, he's only "fresh," but "dhrunk" is the word for the poor man. And if a gentleman kicks up a row, he's a "fine, spirited fellow," while a poor man is a "disorderly vagabond" for the same; and the Justice axes the one to dinner, and sends the other to jail. Oh, hays, the law is a dainty lady; she takes people by the hand who can afford to wear gloves, but people with brown fists must keep their distance.

"Well, Pat, my boy, and how much did the pig weigh?" "Well, ye see, Mike, my darlint, it didn't weigh as much as I expected, an' I never thought it would."

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF South & Qu'Appelle.

GENTLEMEN.—At the request of a number of yourselves, I am now in the field as a candidate for the position of reeve of your municipality.

It will be impossible for me to see you all personally, but I may here briefly explain my views on municipal affairs:

I am in favor of keeping our taxes down to the lowest possible point and depending on our statute labor and grants from the Northwest Government for the improvement of our public roads.

I believe that since the abolition of the ward system, both reeve and councillors should consider themselves as representatives of the whole municipality and avoid favoritism to any particular district or party, and if elected I pledge myself to carry out this principle, and discharge the duties devolving on me to the best of my ability, and I hope to your satisfaction.

Soliciting your vote and influence, I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
WM. HENLEY.

(Written by a little girl twelve years old.)

The Indian seemed pleased, and Mr. Stanley went home and asked his wife if she was willing to go; she said she would, and Edith said she wanted to go too, and at 7 o'clock they started. The Indian did not live in a tent, he had made a house of logs, and it was quite large. Our little trio knocked at the door and it was opened to them by the squaw. Mrs. Stanley was surprised; instead of a dirty house, as she fully expected to see, the house was as clean as willing hands could make it under the circumstances; the floor was very clean and skins of animals spread upon it. The squaw was sitting sewing. She was dressed very neatly, and when they went in she gave them stools to sit on, made of the stumps of trees, and asked them if they would like to see her sick child? They said they would like to, and the squaw took them into the next room. The little girl was lying on a bed and looked very comfortable. Mrs. Stanley gave her some fruit, and she was greatly pleased. At five Mr. and Mrs. Stanley were talking to the little girl, Edith had slipped out of the house and was playing with the two girls; they were having a good time. Edith's mother came out to see her, and she came to go. Edith said she would come to the camp next morning and take Edith and show her where berries grew; so they went home and the Indian said he would not forget their kindness. The next morning Edith and her two companions and Chimo started out. They were busy gathering berries when a wolf came running by trying to catch a rabbit. Chimo was not as big as the wolf, but he ran at him and bit him; the wolf would have killed the dog but at that moment an arrow came whizzing through the air and passed so near Edith that she faintly and would have fallen down the ravine had not one of the girls caught her. It was the Indian who had killed the wolf. He went down to the stream, and getting some water in his hat, he put some on Edith's face. He then took her up in his strong arms, and Chimo and the two Indian girls followed. He went to the camp and Mr. Stanley thanked him heartily. Edith soon recovered consciousness and told her parents all that had taken place. The next day Edith wanted to go all around the island and see all they could, as the time was drawing near when they would have to leave the island; so Frank Morton said he would go and take care of her. Edith had a cart, which she hitched Chimo to and got into it. Frank led the way. They travelled about six miles and then Frank thought he had better pitch the tent; he found a place, and after he had got it up he cooked some of the duck he had shot, and after supper retired to rest. In the morning Frank was awakened by the bark of a wolf. Starting up and taking his gun, and telling Edith he would be back in a few minutes, he went out. Edith got up, and when she had breakfast ready and Frank had not yet made his appearance, she left it. She was working about the tent when Chimo came running in and ran around Edith and whined. Edith did not take any notice of him at first, but the dog kept running around and she thought something must have happened to Frank, so she put on her bonnet and followed Chimo. She had walked about a mile when Chimo suddenly ran behind a rock. Edith followed, and there lay the insensible form of Frank Morton. Edith did not lose her presence of mind. When she found he could not walk home, she called Chimo and hurrying to their tent got some tea in a bottle, and hitching Chimo to her cart she drove back to where Frank lay. With much difficulty she got him into the cart and drove him to their tent; here, after getting him on the couch, she gave him some hot tea and bathed the wounds on his forehead, when he fell into a light slumber. Edith then sat down to think of what she had better do; at last she got up, and putting on her hood, she hitched Chimo to the cart and started out to the camp to get some one to come to Frank. She travelled for a long way, and when she did not come to the camp she knew that she was lost. Poor Edith! She was so hungry and tired she got out of the cart and tried to find some berries, and wandered away from poor Chimo. All at once the sky grew dark with clouds and it started to rain. Edith called to Chimo, and the dog started to come to her, but when he was running past some bushes the cart caught on them, and pull as he would he could not get away. He barked as loudly as he could but Edith could not hear him amid the thunder. After the storm was over, Edith wandered down to the river, there was a canoe by the river and she got into it and fell asleep. In the night a breeze sprang up and towed the canoe down the river to an island where lived a few Indians who had never seen a white person. When they saw Edith in the boat they thought it was a spirit. They took her into their huts and nursed her till she was strong again. One day Edith told a little Indian to get her some pieces of bone; he did so and Edith got an old knife and on each piece of bone she scratched "Come to Edith," she then made a hole in each piece and made every Indian wear one around his neck. They laughed at her, but she thought perhaps her father or Frank Morton might see it. A party of Indians went out one day to fish, and one of them wandered away from the party, and when it was time to go home he could not be found. Great were the murmurings at the camp when the party told him he could not be found. The man who wandered away fell from a rock, where he was found by Frank Morton, who had been hunting for Edith. Frank could not speak Indian, but he knew he wanted his help. When Frank was tying up his wounds he espied the piece of bone and read what was on it. He got all the information he could from the Indian, and when the Indian recovered they started to get her. The Indians did not like to let Edith go but they could not stop her. Frank took her home, and the meeting which followed I must leave to your imagination. The next day the party started to go to their separate homes, but before they went they all said that the fun they had quite overbalanced the anxiety and fear.

THE END.

Advancing Backwards.

"Come here, Pat, you tramp, and tell me why you came to school so late this morning," said an Irish schoolmaster to a ragged and shoeless urchin, whose "young idea" he had undertaken, for a penny a week, to teach "how to shoot." "Pence, your honor," replied the ready-witted scholar. "The frost made the way so slippery, that for every step forward I took two steps backward." "Don't you see, Pat," was the rejoinder of the pedagogue, "that at that rate ye would never have reached school at all." "Just what I thought to myself, your honor," replied the boy. "And so I turned to go home, and after a time I found myself at school."

A Slight Mistake.

A Dutchman, reading an account of a meeting the other day, came to the words, "the meeting then dissolved." He could not define the meaning of the latter, so he referred to his dictionary, and felt satisfied. In a few minutes a friend came in, when Hanty said, "Dey must have very hot wedder dere in New York. I rot an agout of a meeting vere all de peoples hab melted away."

THE MARKETS.

Wheat—This week has been an uneven one, like holiday time usually is, in leading wheat markets. The visible supply statement showed a decrease of 50,000 bushels for last week. The like week a year ago there was an increase of 204,000.

Wheat locally—Wheat has been very dull. Deliveries in the country have been light. Roads have been bad on account of insufficient snow for sleighing and just enough to make it slippery for wheeling. The quantity of surplus wheat still held by farmers is the doubtful feature, and is estimated at 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 bushels. A great many buyers are off country markets, as prices are considered too high at many points and the quantity coming in is too small to make it profitable to keep the buyers out. Millers are getting most of the wheat. We have heard of as high as 60c per bushel having been paid to farmers at country points, but the average price to farmers in country markets is about 50c to 52c for No. 1 hard.

Flour—Locally there is no change. Sales to local trade by millers are made at $1.65 per cwt., and $1.85 bakers, delivered, with large lots at 5c under these figures.

Butter—Market still very dull. About 17c per lb. appears to be about as high as anything is going in dairy, and very good lots could be quoted about 16c.

Cheese—Jobbers quote 11 to 11½c.

Eggs—Fresh, 15c; lined, 17c; old lined, 12c.

Lard—We quote pure, $1.90 for 20-pound pails and $4.65 for 40-pound pails; compound at $1.75 per 20-pound pail; compound in 3 and 5 pound tins, 56c per case of 60 pounds. Pure leaf lard in 3, 5 and 10 pound tins, quoted at $0.75 per case of 60 pounds.

Poultry—Prices are lower at 9 to 11c for turkeys dressed, per pound. Ducks, dressed, 8c; geese 7 to 8c. Chickens, 7 to 7½c.

Hay—Loose hay on the street market is selling at about $4 per ton; baled hay, $4 to $4.50 per ton.

Livestock—The local market is very dull for live stock. We quote cattle at from 2½ to 3½c live weight; sheep purely nominal at about 2½ to 2½c; Hogs are being taken by packers at 3½ to 3½c as to quality; car lots of average quality about 2½c—Winnipeg Commercial.

OUR LOCAL MARKET.

Wheat, 58 to 60c; little offering. Oats, wholesale 30c, retail 40c, per bushel. Beans, 80c, per 100 lbs.; $16 per ton. Flour—Hannigan, $2.25; Strong Bakers, $2 per sack of 95 lbs. Beef per side, 4½c; joints, 10c; Pork, 5½c per 100 lbs; 8 to 12c per lb. according to choice. Mutton, 10 to 12½c per lb.; per carcass, 10c. White fish, 6c for quantities; 8c, per lb. Potatoes, 7½c per bushel. Cabbages, 1½c, per lb. Onions 4 lbs. for 5c. Hay, $4 to $5 per ton. Butter, 15c, per lb. Cheese, 17c per lb. Eggs, 20c per doz.

Bad Case.

A Dutchman related a misfortune which befell his son in the following manner: "Poor Hans! he bit himself with a rattlesnake, and was sick into his bed, speechless, for six weeks in the month of August—and all his cry was, 'water! water!' and he couldn't eat nothing except a needle tea."

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF

South Qu'Appelle

GENTLEMEN—Under the Amended Municipal Ordinance it becomes your duty to elect a Reeve at the beginning of the New Year.

Ratepayers of every section of the municipality believing that the presiding officer of the council should have a practical knowledge of the management of municipal affairs, and knowing that I had served a very necessary apprenticeship of two years in the council, have urged me to come forward as a candidate for the position, and I have consented.

My policy, briefly, is retrenchment in every possible way, and my past municipal record is a guarantee of my future conduct in this respect.

The ward system, on the whole, worked very satisfactorily with us in the past, and unless the coming year's test of the new system shall disclose advantages (not now apparent to me) that are in proportion to the additional expense entailed on the district by the change, I would be in favor of petitioning the Northwest Assembly to allow us the privilege of re-adopting the old system in the interests of economy and representation.

Gentlemen, confidently soliciting your support.

I remain your obedient servant,
W. G. VIGARS.

I am of opinion that it should be the duty and pleasure of your representatives to use every endeavor to further the best interests of the municipality in its entirety—to show no undue partiality to any particular locality; to heartily co-operate with each other in all matters affecting the general good, and to see that you have an adequate return for every cent of expenditure. Your rates would thus represent the purchase money of benefits received rather than a tax for which no value is returned.

Should you honor me with your confidence the carrying out of these principles shall be my special study, and I pledge myself to serve you to the best of my ability.

Most respectfully yours,

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC

AND STOMACH AND LIVER CURE

The Wonderful HEALTH BUILDER & NERVE FOOD

This Remedy cures Indigestion and Dyspepsia, as well as all Nervous Diseases, by acting on the Nerve Centres at the base of the brain. It has been absolutely demonstrated, that two-thirds of our diseases and ailments, are due to the deranged Nerve Centres at the base of or within the brain.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE IS A WONDERFUL CURE FOR INDIGESTION AND DYSPESIA.

Loss of Appetite, Weight and Tenderness in the Stomach, Sour Stomach Pain in the Stomach, Wind upon the Stomach, Nausea and Sick Stomach, Sick-Headache, Hiccough, Water Brash, Heartburn, Vertigo and Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Frightful Dreams, etc.

The Stomach suffers more than any of the other organs from disease, because into it are taken so many indigestible and irritating substances as articles of food. In its great effort to digest these, it soon becomes weakened and diseased. Under such circumstances, it is not wonderful that so many complain of indigestion and weak stomachs. When the stomach fails to digest and assimilate the food, the whole body falls into a state of weakness and decay.

For Nature has decreed that the body must constantly receive nutriment through the stomach, to repair the waste of tissue constantly going on in the system.

The South American Nervine

Is probably the greatest remedy ever discovered for the cure of all Chronic Stomach troubles, because it acts through the nerve centres. It gives marked relief in ONE DAY, and very soon effects a permanent cure. The first bottle will convince anyone that a cure is certain.

WHAT EX-MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT, KEURIN F. THOMAS, SAYS.

I have been for about ten years very much troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, have tried a great many different kinds of patent medicines, and have been treated by a number of physicians and found no benefit from them. I was recommended to try SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE. I obtained a bottle, and I must say I have found very great relief, and have since taken two more bottles, and now feel that I am entirely free from indigestion, and would strongly recommend all my fellow sufferers from the disease, to give SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE an immediate trial.

It will cure you.

A MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL SPEAKS.
PERKINS, Ontario, June 27th, 1893.

DEAR SIR,—I have much pleasure in recommending the great SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE to all who are afflicted as I have been, with nervous indigestion and indigestion. I found very great relief from the very first bottle, which was strongly recommended to me by my physician. I also induced my wife to use it, who, I must say, was completely run down and was suffering very much from general debility. She found great relief from SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE, and also cheerfully recommends it to her fellow sufferers.

Sick Headache

Is dependent on deranged nerve centres and indigestion. Hence its cure must come through building up the Nervous System and curing the Stomach. SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE will absolutely cure this dreaded malady and prevent its return.

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

CRANFORDVILLE, Indiana.
My daughter, twelve years old, had been afflicted for several months with St. Vitus's Dance. She was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk, could not talk, could not swallow anything but milk. I had to hold her like an infant. Doctors and neighbors gave up. I commenced giving her the SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE Tonic, and the effect was very surprising. In three days she was rid of her nervousness, and rapidly improved. Her father cured her completely. I think the SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE Tonic is a remedy never discovered, and would recommend it to everyone. Mrs. W. T. ENSMITH.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that by the Act 57-58 Victoria, Chapter 24, the Governor-in-Council is empowered to deal with the claim to military bounty on account of active service during the Northwest Rebellion of 1885, of any person who is entitled thereto but has not already received such bounty.

As the time for the location of Military Bounties is extended by that Statute until the 1st of January, 1896, only, all claims must be filed immediately in order that they may be examined and Warrants issued in time to be located before the date mentioned.

The following books, suitable for Christmas and New Year's presents, are to be obtained from Mr. John Givens: "The Business Guide," by Hareford, L. D., Osmond Hall; "Household Guide," by Prof. B. G. Jeffries; "Woman's World," by Mary Alice Sullivan, profusely illustrated; "Stories of Pioneer Days," a book for children, by J. B. Jenkins; "Pleasures Complete Programme," "Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress," and "Songs that Never Die."

The Winnipeg Weekly Tribune, which is acknowledged to have—even by rival publishers—the largest circulation of any paper published in Canada west of Lake Superior, is now offering great inducements to intending subscribers. It can be obtained from now to January 1st, 1896, for $1—a very slight advance on the cost of the white paper used in its publication. At its regular price of $1 a year, The Weekly Tribune is certainly extra value, and with the balance of this year free the offer becomes an extraordinary one. The fact that the Weekly Tribune reaches more homes in the North-West than any other paper published, is strong evidence that it is recognized as the great family newspaper. It publishes Dr. Talmage's sermon each week, and gives more Manitoba and North-West news from its own correspondents than all other Winnipeg papers combined. This is especially interesting to the settler, as almost every district is represented. It can be had from now to the end of next year by sending $1 to the Tribune Publishing Co., Winnipeg.

—A well known book on horsemanship says: "If you must put frosty bits in some mouths, let it be your own. Carry the bridle with you to break fast, and put the bits near the stove while you eat." There are many miserably cold stables, and the suggestion is especially opportune at this season.

—The fair and orderly manner in which the nomination for reeve and councillors for the coming year was carried on has been remarked upon by many strangers in our town. This is as it should be. Long may it continue, and just as soon as it does so, so surely will it be at least an indirect benefit to the community.

—One of the most interesting games of curling played as yet this season, was an eight end game on last Tuesday, skipped by Messrs. J. B. Hawkes of Balgonie, and W. H. Bell, Qu'Appelle, resulting in favor of Mr. Hawkes, who upheld his well known versatility even in skipping a rink.

—Mr. Whitehead, a highly respected citizen of Moose, in, dropped dead in the Baptist Church, while attending communion service on Sunday last. He had just got in the Church and was looking for a seat when he was so suddenly called. He was about 30 years old, and leaves a wife and several children, who were with him. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death.

He will certainly be a fast horse, and will be a decided acquisition to the breeders of the Territories.—Canadian Horseman.

—A dispatch from Ottawa states that within a few days Major-General Herbert will vacate the position of Commander of the Militia in Canada. At the time of his indiscretion in suspending Adj.-General Powell during the last session of parliament, it is said that he handed in his resignation and it has ever since remained under the consideration of the Government. Now it will be acted on.

—The greatest papers in Great Britain and the United States freely acknowledge the wonderful merit of the FAMILY HERALD and WEEKLY STAR, Montreal. The FAMILY HERALD is a great newspaper and a great family paper, but it is more than that, it is one of the greatest authorities in the world on cheese, butter and general dairying, and general farming. How a progressive, up-to-date farmer can do without the FAMILY HERALD and WEEKLY STAR of Montreal, is hard, indeed, to understand.

Curling.

Curling is now the order of the day. The rinks have been formed, and should the ice remain in the same excellent condition as at present, we have no doubt that the Heather Curling Club will be able to sustain their well known reputation. We understand that the District Competition will take place about the middle of the month at Indian Head, at which at least two rinks from Qu'Appelle will attend to do battle for the coveted district medals. The composition of the different rinks is as follows:

THE GAME AT THE RINK.

McDonald; Vice-President, H. H. Hayward; Treas., J. A. McDonald; Secretary, R. Kerr; Committee men, W. Sutherland and A. E. Redale. On Thursday, Jan. 3rd, the ratepayers of our school section held their annual meeting at the school house. The chairman opened the meeting at 10 o'clock, the usual routine of business was then gone through, both trustees and teacher giving a very fair report for the past year, and we hope satisfied all who had questions to ask. As the time drew on, ratepayers kept dropping in from all quarters, and before any nominations were made, every available ratepayer but three was on deck about 11 o'clock. Mr. Joseph Craig and Mr. W. Capling were duly nominated. While nomination hours were kept open, the ratepayers took part in a spirited discussion on the question of dancing in the school, resulting in a large majority for it. Then a vote was taken for a show of hands or a poll in reference to the election of the trustee. While the vote was taken, resulting in a show of hands, the minute hand slipped past the given hour. Then a ministerialist, duly prompted, though misinformed, arose and protested against the opposition nominator, for Mr. Craig. The scheme having failed, the fun began and Donnybrook Fair would be nothing to it; order was a thing of the past, polite and impolite language was hurled from side to side, even the high functionaries mingling with the rabble. At length a gentleman got a hearing and brought the meeting to a more peaceful standing, although an occasional bark was heard every little while. The vote was then taken, Mr. Craig receiving fourteen votes to Mr. Capling's seven. The meeting then closed with a vote of thanks to the ex-trustee for past services, and the crowd went home to dinner.

a new experience to him. Rumor was busy saying that he was simply coming forward through spite; this he denied; thought that with a little practice, together with the experience he had had as a private individual, he thought he would be a benefit to the ratepayers throughout the whole municipality; was in favor of both the present herd law and the statute labor ordinance.

R. Craig was asked by quite a few to come out and stand for the council; had not a great deal to say, but if elected would endeavor to serve them all faithfully and well.

Mr. Kidd was sorry he had not the eloquence of some of the previous speakers or the experience of others; with regard to the new system, he thought it would be premature to condemn it, we had to put up with it for twelve months, when we could then judge of it; with respect to road work, one of the principal things in the municipality is the making and maintenance of good roads; advocated charging the maximum amount for commutation of statute labor; was adverse to councilors handling the money; the council should have the roads laid out and so much paid for grading, brushing, etc., and that everyone should have an opportunity of working on the roads in his immediate neighborhood; did not approve of the refunding of the general tax, nor the plowing of fire breaks along the C.P.R.; was in favor of the annual assessment; thought the reason of unsatisfactory assessments of the past was greatly by reason of not sufficient remuneration to the assessor; did not think any improvement could be made in the herd law.

Mr. Matthews appeared as a candidate by request, and if they thought he was capable of representing them, he would do his best to meet their approval.

Mr. Chapman—His platform is economy; would like to do away with all fees, and was quite willing to serve them, if elected, for nothing. (Cheers.) Was in favor of the triennial assessment; was in favor of returning to the old system of path masters, and letting work by contract. Councilors should not handle any of the money.

Mr. Seuff was glad to see such a representative meeting; was in favor of abolishing the ward system; was extremely surprised to see the way in which the meeting was conducted; at most of the meetings he had previously attended ill feeling was rampant. He thought the herd law should be as short as possible in a good year; was in favor of strict economy; of three-yearly assessment; of collector of taxes; not in favor of making the treasurer the collector, and was not in favor of expending the general fund for improvements. Was in favor of allowing a discount to those who pay their taxes promptly, and of some means of doing away with noxious weeds.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting dispersed.

Much Interest Taken in Municipal Affairs.

Nominations for reeve and councillors were made on Monday as follows: For reeve, Wm. Dickson, R. C. Sanderson. Councillors: J. Glenn, David Kailton, C. J. Dutton, H. F. Mitchell, W. H. Stephens, M. Worden, Thos. Livingstone, A. M. McLane, Jas. Harkin and W. Braithwaite. Mr. McLane declining to accept a nomination his name was withdrawn. This leaves the contest for reeve between the last year's chairman, Wm. Dixon, and R. C. Sanderson, ex-collector of taxes, and two candidates for the offices of councillor, six of whom can only be elected.

Greater interest was taken in the nomination this year than was evidenced in past years. Fully 125 ratepayers were present and listened to Chairman Dickson's account of his stewardship. In some minor matters the action of the council of 1894 was ably though severely criticised by Mr. A. M. McLane. The financial position of the municipality, however, was never found to be in better standing since its organization.

TWO-THIRDS OF ALL OUR DISEASES & AILMENTS ARE CAUSED BY DERANGED NERVE CENTRES AT THE BASE OF THE BRAIN.

LATE discoveries have absolutely proven that the Stomach, Liver, Lungs, and indeed all internal organs, are controlled by the nerve centres at the base of the brain. The manufacturer of THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC AND STOMACH AND LIVER CURE has studied this subject closely for more than twenty-five years, and has lately demonstrated that two-thirds of our Chronic Diseases, are due to the imperfect action of nerve centres, either within or at the base of the brain, and not from a derangement of the organs themselves; hence that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong.

As all know, a serious injury to the spinal cord will at once cause Paralysis of the body below the injured part; it therefore will be equally well understood how the derangement of the nerve centres will cause the derangement of the different organs of the body which they supply with Nerve Fluid or Nerve Force.

The wonderful success of SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC is due alone to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle. The use of a single bottle of this remedy will convince the most incredulous. It is, indeed, a veritable Nerve Food and WILL RELIEVE IN ONE DAY the varied forms of Nervous Disease and Stomach Troubles.

Nervous Diseases.

This class of diseases is rapidly increasing each year, on account of the great wear our mode of living and labor imposes upon the nervous system. Symptoms of all the ailments to which the human family is heir, are dependent upon nervous exhaustion, impaired digestion, and a deteriorated and impoverished condition of the blood. THE SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC is a great nerve food and nerve builder, and this accounts for its marvellous power to cure the varied forms of nervous disease, such as Neuralgia, Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, St. Vitus's Dance, Nervous Choking, Nervous Paroxysms, Twitching of the Muscles, Hot Flashes, Mental Despondency, Forgetfulness, Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Nervousness of Females, Palpitation of the Heart, Sexual Weakness, etc., etc.

In Bed Six Years

HARTFORD CITY, Blackford Co., Indiana, June 8, '93.

South American Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN: I received a letter from you May 27, stating that you had heard of my wonderful recovery from a spell of sickness of six years' duration, through the use of SOUTH AMERICAN NERVE TONIC, and asking for my testimonial. I will gladly state how I was afflicted and how I was delivered from my pain and suffering. I was near thirty-five years old, when I took down with nervous prostration. Our family physician treated me, but without benefiting me in the least. My nervous system seemed to be entirely shattered, and I constantly had very severe shaking spells. In addition to this I would have vomiting spells, and there would be from eight to twenty days at a time that I could not retain anything on my stomach. Many consultations were held by physicians over my case, but they all agreed that I would never leave my bed. During the years I lay sick, my folks had an eminent physician from Dayton, Ohio, and two from Columbus, Ohio, to come and examine me. They all said I could not live. I got to having spells like spasms, and would lie coiled and stiff for a time after each. At last I lost the use of my body—could not rise from my bed or walk a step, and had to be lifted like a child; all the time suffering intense pain, and taking almost every known medicine. Part of the time I could read a little, and one day saw an advertisement of your medicine and concluded to try one bottle. By the time I had taken one and one-half bottles, I could rise up and take a step or two by being helped, and after I had taken five bottles in all I felt real well. The shaking went away gradually, and I could eat and sleep good, and my friends could scarcely believe it was I. I am sure this medicine is the best in the world. It was a god-send to me, and I believe it saved my life. I give my name and address, so that if any one doubts my statement they can write me, or our postmaster, or any citizen, as all are acquainted with my case. I am now forty-one years of age, and expect to live as long as the Lord has use for me and do all the good I can in helping the suffering.

MISS ELLEN STOLTZ.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF SOUTH QU'APPELLE.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—The time for the Municipal Elections is drawing near, and having been requested by a large number of the ratepayers of the district to come forward as a candidate for the position of councillor, I have consented to offer you my services.

In the case of being elected, I will endeavor by my vote in the council to keep down the taxes to the lowest possible limit. I am also in favor of the statute labor on our roads being continued, and any monies granted for the improvement of our public roads I will see properly laid out and equalized throughout the municipality.

At present I am in favor of the old ward system being re-established (unless great advantages accrue from the present system), so that each community can choose their local men to represent them.

I therefore take this opportunity of asking you for your vote and interest. I will call on all of you as far as I can, but as it will not be possible to get around in the time, I trust no offense will be taken.

I am, Ladies and Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
CHARLES HILL.

TO THE RATEPAYERS

OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF

SOUTH : QU'APPELLE.

GENTLEMEN—I have been asked by many ratepayers in my own and other districts to offer myself as a candidate at the forthcoming election for the Municipal Council. I have decided to do so, and should you see fit to elect me, my aim will be to keep the taxes as low as possible, to advocate a careful expenditure of the public money, and to look after your interests that at the end of the year there will be no hesitation on your part about re-electing me for 1896.

I will see as many of you as possible and explain my views more fully. At the same time, in case I should not be able to see you all, I can now assure you that when you go to your district polling station and VOTE FOR ME, you can rely on your interests being as well looked after in the council as if you were rich present there in person.

I am, respectfully yours,

WM. CHAPMAN.
